First and for most, let me extend my gratitude the God Almighty, Allah Subhanahu Wataala. Second of all, peach be upon Muhammad Sallallahu Alaihi Wasallam.

It has been an honour for us to host online conference on Halal Issue, Policy, and Sustainability on 27-29 November 2020. There were 300 accepted abstracts from researchers, professionals, and lecturers from all over the world. All of them have been compiled in the Proceeding of The Second International Conference on Halal Issue, Policy, and Sustainability UMI 2020 (IC-HalalUMI2020). May this proceeding book benefit the authors, readers and everyone who are reading it.

The conference was meant to produce qualified and highly competitive lecturers, educators and researchers through the conference activities, to produce international writings, to develop insightful knowledge that can lead all participants to be aware and apply the broad concepts of Halal issues as a means of workshoping Allahu Subhanahu Wataalaa.

In addition, the conference particularly encourages interaction between the leading experts in the Halal Issue, Policy, and Sustainability not only from Southeast Asia such as Brunei Darussalam, Malaysia, and Thailand but also from other countries such as Canada, Turkey, Bahrain, Egypt, Pakistan. Their presentations have been remarkably contributed to the most scientific knowledge in the field of Halal issue, policy, and sustainability. Also, the conference has been managed not only for sharing research and theoretical findings but also encouraging collaboration between researchers from Indonesia and researchers from other countries. Thus, the international research collaboration will be more initiated in the future. Last but not least, we thank all authors, participants, and sponsors for their contributions to make this conference happened and to get this proceeding book published. We would be delighted to see you all in the next year conference.

Foreword from Universitas Muslim Indonesia Rector

Bismillahirrahmanirrahim

I am delighted to write my forewords for the Proceeding book of The Second International Conference on Halal Issue, Policy, and Sustainability UMI 2020 (IC-HalalUMI2020).

To begin with, I would like to extend my highest appreciation to the invited speakers, participants, and sponsors, and not to mention the committee. I believe, their contribution has lifted up the conference level to be a premier conference in the field of halal issues, policy and sustainability. Therefore, the articles published in this proceeding will provide the public with high quality and useful research to be able to solve social problems and to lead to scientific discoveries.

I hope that this program will further stimulate research in Halal issue, policy, and sustainability. Therefore, I encourage everyone to use the knowledge they have gained in the conference and use the articles in this proceeding as the basis for the next research.

For the participants from Universities Muslim Indonesia in particular and other universities in general, the conference has been the good international event to interact with leading scholars through which everyone can get motivated and be inspired to do more research or to collaborate with national and international colleagues. The interaction should set the participants from Universitas Muslim Indonesia the international presentation and writing standards so that there will be more international presentation and publication from researchers and academics of Universitas Muslim Indonesia.

Finally, it has been an honour and privilege for Universitas Muslim Indonesia to host the conference and to serve all the distinguished speakers and outstanding participants. May Allah Subhanahuwataala protect us all so that we can meet in the next year conference.

Abstract. The Ulama' differed on whether or not the eggs contained uncleanness when hatched, so there was also a disagreement about whether or not the eggs should be washed before use. The purpose of this study is to find out the analysis of Islamic law against unwashed eggs (case study of fried rice sellers in Berau Regency). The research method used is a mixed research method, combining qualitative research methods and quantitative research methods. The results showed that Ulama' differed on the status of animal eggs when hatched, whether they contained uncleanness or not so that dissent resulted in different implications. The opinion of the scholars who say eggs are unclean, then eggs should be washed before cooking, because unclean foods are forbidden to eat. While the opinion of the egg is not unclean based on the opinion of Imam Nawawi "the egg of the animal eaten by the flesh is holy" and ibn Ash Shabbagh's opinion in his fatwa says that "the outer skin of the egg is not obligatory to be washed". Based on the results of the interview, from a sample of 95 fried rice sellers, 50 percent answered unwashed eggs before cooking for buyers.
